

Exact equality sees three records. A measured process asks whether they are one.